

Consultant (m/f) –

University graduate or career entrant

Ref.Nr. 167 | Location: Stuttgart, München, Wolfsburg, Ingolstadt

Your tasks

- Implementation of consulting projects with the focus on project management / process management / logistics / digitization / quality management / production / supplier management / connectivity / e-mobility / SCM etc.
- Consulting of the OEMs, TierOnes and suppliers in the automotive industry and contiguous industries
- Analysis, optimization and standardization of processes valid throughout the company
- Creation of concepts and development of new methods
- Customer support in all project phases - from strategy to implementation
- Building sustainable relationships with our customers and jointly developing solutions for complex problems

Your skills

- Degree in technical, economic or natural sciences
- First practical experience in the automotive industry through internships / working student activities / etc.
- Fluent in German and good English knowledge
- Good knowledge of MS Office, further skills desirable
- Entrepreneurial thinking and excellent analytical skills
- High self-motivation, social competence and communication strength
- Teamwork and flexibility

We offer

- An interesting diversified and challenging working environment which is based on the latest technologies
- A highly motivated and international team
- Exciting projects for prestigious customers
- Personal and professional development opportunities from the start
- Flexible working conditions and performance-linked wages

CONTACT

Julia Friz

+ 49 (0) 711 252 749 0

We manage projects and reorganize company processes in automotive, aviation, energy and telecommunication industries. Established in 1996 as a spin-off of the Fraunhofer Institute of Production Technology in Aachen we, are now over 3,900 P3 team-members at more than 40 locations worldwide.

We are specialized on testing and developing services in the field of infotainment, E-Mobility & automotive electronics. Our testing methods and strategies are proved successfully worldwide to support the quality management of our customers. The longstanding cooperation with OEM and suppliers makes us the leading developing partner in testing environments from planning and implementation to delivery of results.

Interested in us? Visit us at: career.p3-group.com

